ClearLight Acne Photoclearing

The summertime is a great time to take care of that annoying acne problem. While teenagers are affected the most, adult acne can be a real nuisance. 80% of acne is caused by one bacteria, P. acnes. The ClearLight utilizes the principle that a certain wavelength of light can cause damage to the cell wall of this bacteria. In this way, the bacteria dies and is eliminated from the skin. All other procedures merely suppress the bacterial activity but never really cure the problem. The ClearLight wavelength also offers the benefit of not damaging the skin with harmful ultraviolet wavelengths.

With proper home skincare programs and the ClearLight, you can enjoy clear skin again. The treatments can be done once per week for 8 weeks or twice per week for 4 weeks. For more information, please call 860-242-0505 or visit our website: www.youthfulimages.com

Announcing...The Encore, Active FX

To our patients who want the best skin they can have with minimal downtime procedures we are eager to respond by offering the Encore, Active FX laser. This new laser will give you similar results of CO2 Laser Resurfacing without the long downtime.

Dr. Felice was one of the first in the state to offer CO2 laser resurfacing in the early '90's. The procedure

What do we know about wrinkles and general damage to the skin?

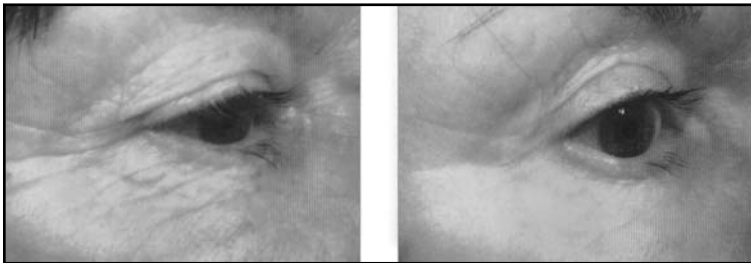

Over time, the elastic and collagen fibers in our skin deteriorate and start a process of infolding. This creates a crease or wrinkle in the skin.

We can heat up the skin to encourage collagen production.

We can resurface the skin to remove the damaged top layers

We can remove the top layer and at the same time heat the deep layers.

produced great results with the elimination of wrinkles and acne scars, but had an extensive recovery time. Because the Encore Active FX was designed for the active individual who is unable to have a long period of downtime, it produces the result you are looking for without weeks of recovery time.

The Encore utilizes the resurfacing and heating principles of the CO2 laser, but the "CoolScan" technology allows this to occur with a three to five day recovery period. The procedure is done with a topical anesthetic so the individual can drive to the office themselves. There is no need for pain medications or antibiotics. A full face resurfacing takes about 30 minutes. Afterward the patient can expect 24 hours of skin weeping, followed by peeling and by day three, mild redness. By day five, the skin appears normal and refreshed. The fascinating part of the procedure is that the elasticity of the skin is improved and collagen buildup occurs for 3-6 months following the procedure. So, for a typical patient, the procedure can be done on a Thursday, and they are back to full activities by Monday. The treatment is best for mild to moderate damaged skin.
