Dear Valued Patient and Friend,

Welcome to another edition of our Looking Good Feeling Good™ newsletter. I hope you're finding some fabulous tips to making your life healthier and happier. Inside this issue you're sure to find something you can use right away, so let's start with...

Through the years as a Plastic Surgeon . . . a personal perspective

As I reflect on the last eighteen years of my surgical career, I ask myself if I have met and continue to meet the initial objectives I established. Objectives based on the foundation of providing patient education, quality care, and excellence in patient communication.

At the very beginning, I felt very strongly that the decision to proceed with a plastic surgical procedure should be supported with education. Plastic surgery has become commonplace in the media and on television programs. Unfortunately there are many misconceptions making patient education more important than ever. For this reason, the website and direct mailings have been expanded to provide ongoing patient education related to patient care and current technologies.

Quality care has always been paramount. Holding to the highest standards and belief in the Hippocratic Oath, "First do no harm" by ensuring that the procedures offered are proven and most importantly, safe. To meet this objective over the years I have chosen staff members whose credentials are second to none, all educators in their own right, but most importantly honest and capable professionals. The clinical team continually reviews surgical procedures, investigating ways to minimize discomfort, improve effectiveness and hasten recovery. The goal remains to provide safe yet state of the art surgical & non surgical procedures.

In 2007, Connecticut mandated that all ambulatory operating facilities be state licensed, as well as certified. Our operating room has been certified by AAAASF since 2002. In June of last year we were honored with such a license, making Youthful Images a State licensed ambulatory surgery center.

As the years progress, in order to provide excellence in patient communication it has been imperative to be a good listener. Patients have shared stories of renewed self confidence and a rekindled enjoyment of life. I have been told how the procedures performed have changed the way they feel about themselves. I've enjoyed listening to these stories and watching patients take better care of their bodies, benefiting from our encouragement to pursue both health and beauty, inside and out.

At the end of the day, I feel grateful for my interactions with you, my patients. You place a great deal of trust in me and the staff of Youthful Images. I value this mutual respect and will always strive to provide the best care possible to you and all my patients.

You remind me to stay true to my original objectives established several years ago, which have stood the test of time for over 30,000 surgical and non-surgical procedures and a superior safety record; looking forward to spending the next several years refining, improving and developing. I will continue to listen, as the trust you have in me is a sacred one.

In this issue, I have provided certificates to say thank you for making Youthful Images your resource for Plastic Surgery. The spring is a great season to rekindle relationships and I do hope you enjoy the savings.

Most of all...thank you for your trust.

Secret to Vibrant Skin

Spring is here but do you still have your winter skin? The winter months are tough on your skin. The combination of cold harsh winds outside and the warm dry air inside damages your skin. Making it feel dry and itchy, leaving your face with a rugged and dull appearance. In order to have beautiful and renewed skin in the spring it is vital to correct the damage by exfoliating and replenishing your skin.

Exfoliating your skin will remove the dead and damaged skin cells. This will optimize the ability to replenish your skin with vitamins and nutrients. The combination will help to reduce the appearance of fine lines, pigment irregularities and the general dull look of the skin. Leaving you with refreshed, glowing skin.

Clinical Skin Care Peels - Parisian Peel, Illuminize Peel, Biomedic Micropeel are all excellent ways to remove the winter damaged skin. Adding a TNS hydrating masque or DermaWave treatment to your peel will optimize the results. The TNS hydrating masque contains ceramides, sodium hyaluronate, and panthenol to infuse skin with vital hydration to help nourish, plump, and firm skin. After having a peel, your skin is more permeable and will benefit greatly from the TNS human growth factors, soluble collagen, proteins, and antioxidants which help enhance skin texture. The DermaWave uses a mesotonification technique called aquaphorisis to penetrate the skin with a formulated gel that contains a combination nutrients that help tighten and improve skin tone and texture.

Home Care Products are also an excellent way to continue exfoliating and replenishing the skin. The use of home care products such as Physical Cleansing Scrub, Skin Polisher, Retinol, and 15% AHA/BHA Cream will help to gently exfoliate and accelerate the natural exfoliation of your skin without stripping moisture or over-exfoliating. To replenish and protect your skin, the use of Dermal Repair, TNS Ultimate Daily Moisturizer hydrates and replenishes with vitamins and nutrients such as lipid-soluble antioxidant vitamins C and E, and NouriCel-MD®.

These are only some of the options available to you. For best results, make an appointment with our clinical skin care specialist to evaluate your skin and recommend the best options for you.
