RED MENACE Those with pale or sensitive skin (or both) usually have facial redness at some point, because of dryness, the cold, nerves or allergies. SkinMedica Redness Relief CalmPlex ($80), available next month at skinmedica.com and in some dermatologists' offices, is said to improve this condition, as well as overall skin tone, with ingredients like vitamin B-3, jojoba oil and squalane.

LASSO LASHES M.A.C. Cosmetics has been working with Warner Bros. and DC Comics to create the Wonder Woman makeup collection, which will go on sale next month. It includes mascaras (purple, green, blue and black, $15 each), lip glosses named Emancipation and Athena's Kiss ($20 each), and Mineralize Skinfinish highlighter compacts called Pink Power and Golden Glow ($35 each). "This collection, more than any other, is larger than life, iconic and deliver, just as she delivers herself," said Jennifer Balbier, a M.A.C. spokeswoman.

FLOWER POWER Haberle's "flower" believed to have originated in the mountains of Bulgaria, is said to have a natural water within its cells, which, when applied, just a hint of moisture, can help to revitalize parched skin. Next month, the company's new anti-aging cream featuring the product ($60) will be available in E and various lip colors.
